Your first sales hire is critical to the success of your business, but it's also one of the most challenging hires that you'll make. —
What does "good" even look like?

Most of us haven't met a B2B sales professional. We might have friends who are in sales, but we likely haven't seen their workflow. The majority of the sales experiences we have in our day to day lives are in the B2C context. Unless you've been the CXO or VP at a 100+ person company, you likely haven't met a sales professional, or engaged with one in a sales process. In short, most founders don't know how to identify a great fit for their first sales hire, as they have few experiences to calibrate against.

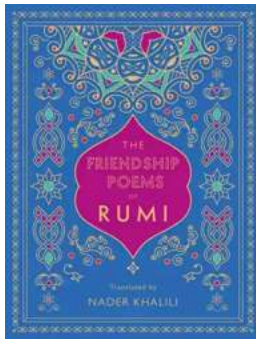

This guide will provide you with a framework for making your first sales hire, starting with where to find them and taking you through how to close them.
